GAS CO. ACCEPTS CITY ORDINANCE

Supt. Steenbergen Receives a Letter to This Effect From the St. Louis

REASSURES CONSUMER

Col. Tonkin Visits Paris For a Conference With Mayor Hinton

Superintendent C. L. Steenbergen, of the Paris Gas & Electric Co., which holds the franchise for the distribution of natural gas in this city, is in receipt of a letter from the officials of the Light & Development Co., of St. Louis, which own and controls the local company, to the effect that the company accepts the terms of the city council regarding the franchise which the company intends to operate under.

At the last meeting of the council an ordinance was passed which restricted the local company from charging an amount in excess of the rate provided in the franchise granted the Central Kentucky Natural Gas Co., and which was taken over by the local concern. In addition to this the council acceded to the request of the officials of the Light & Development Co., and left in force the franchise held by the company, which was granted in 1910, and which provided for a rate of $1.65 per thousand for gas.

Following considerable agitation as to the possibility of the distributors of natural gas in this city, operating under the franchise granted in 1910 to the Paris Gas & Electric Co., the matter was taken up by Mayor Hinton, who to safeguard the interests of the city, compelled the officials of the Light & Development Co. to elect under which franchise it would operate.

Mr. W. H. Beck, secretary of the Light & Development Co., came to this city to confer with the officials in an effort to straighten the entanglement, but after stating it was the purpose of the company to operate under the old franchise, a statement was issued by Mayor Hinton in which he said the case would be carried to the court of last resort in an effort to annul the old franchise and compel the company to furnish natural gas to the consumers at the rate specified in the latter franchise.

Following a call for a special meeting of the City Council to take immediate action, Mr. Beck requested that this action be deferred until he could return to St. Louis. Following his visit Mr. W. S. Smith, President of the Light & Development Co., came to Paris to appear before the Council in the interest of his company and in an effort to bring about an amicable adjustment. In his statement made to the Council Mr. Smith declared it was never the intention of his company to operate under other than the recent franchise granted to the Central Kentucky Natural Gas Co., and which was purchased by the concern of which he was the head.

The ordinance, which proved acceptable to Mr. Smith, was read in the Council, and after its passage by the unanimous vote of the Board, Mr. Smith, on behalf of his company, agreed upon his return to St. Louis, to formally accept the terms and provisions of the ordinance before it could go into effect.

The letter directed to Superintendent Steenbergen was yesterday presented to Mayor Hinton. Hon. C. M. Thomas, attorney for the St. Louis company, returned after an absence of a few days from the city, and stated that he had not received any communication from the company which he represents.

COL. TONKIN VISITS PARIS.

Col. John Tonkin, of Oil City, Pa., President of the Central Kentucky Natural Gas Co., was a visitor in Paris Tuesday, coming here especially to look into the conditions and to investigate the rumors that had been carried to his ears that the purchasers of 1913 franchise—The Light and Development Co., of St. Louis, Mo., intended to operate under the franchise of 1910.

Col. Tonkin spent some time in consultation with Mayor J. T. Hinton in regard to the matter and gave the information to the city's executive that immediately upon receipt of the rumor which was in effect and which occasioned decided unrest among the prospective consumers of natural gas in this city, he immediately telegraphed the St. Louis concern that he would insist that the Paris Gas & Electric Co. operate under the late franchise.

Later, he said, he received a reply to the effect that it was the intention of the company to pursue no other course than that with the approval of the city officials as well as the consumers of natural gas, and further than that the Light & Development Co. was having papers prepared that would prove satisfactory.

After investigating the affair and finding the people of Paris thoroughly satisfied with the course of the Paris Gas & Electric Co., which is owned and operated by the Light & Development Co. and assuring Mayor Hinton that the Central Kentucky Natural Gas Co. would in event of a breach of contract insist upon the local concern operating under the 1913 franchise, he left for Lexington where he will spend a few days before returning home.

FARMERS' WEEK AT THE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE

Every Kentucky farmer should be interested in the approaching meeting of the Kentucky Corn Growers' Association, especially in view of the fact that it is associated, as regards time and place, with most of the other leading farmers' organizations of the State.

The advances made in Kentucky in the last few years in the production of a good quality of corn have been rather remarkable. It will be of interest to many Kentucky farmers to know that in the classes offered for the best ten years of white dent corn at the National Corn Show last year, Kentucky stood first among the States.

The annual meeting of the Corn Growers' Association is to be held on Wednesday, January 7, 1914, but the corn show will continue throughout the week of January 5 to 10. The program for Corn Day will be made up of lectures and demonstrations bearing on soil fertility and other fundamental questions upon which the growing of corn like any other crop depends.

Besides the corn show, which will include the cereals, there will be in progress during the week educational exhibits and competitive shows in horticulture, dairy products and poultry, and a tobacco show. It will be seen from this synopsis that farmers whose larger interests represent these various lines of agriculture will be brought together for a general convention and for instruction by noted experts, and all has been crowded into the space of one week, that those especially interested in two or more farm specialties may without great loss of time attend both conventions and others if they so desire.

The other conventions are those of the Beef Cattle Breeders' Association, the Kentucky Dairy Cattle Club, the Kentucky Sheep Breeders' Association, the Kentucky Swine Breeders' Association, the Kentucky Horse Breeders' Association, the Poultrymen, the Bee Keepers' and the State Horticultural Society. In most cases at least one specialist will be brought from a distance to deliver the principal address at the meeting of each one of these associations.

The women's department has not been slighted, as special arrangements are being made for work in home economics which will be of great value to women who live in rural communities. They will also be very much interested in the poultry show, the dairy products exhibit and convention, and perhaps in the beekeepers' convention. A prospectus of this week of work being prepared and will be mailed free upon application.

A very attractive premium list has been provided for the corn show and for the other shows where competition is to be made, which will be sent free upon request. Some may not consider it worth while to send such corn as they have which has necessarily been produced under very adverse conditions during the past season, but it must be remembered that all have suffered from the same cause and the chances will be equal. Those who cannot attend the show are entitled to send their corn by express with the privilege of having it placed in competition.

Farmers' Week constitutes the opening of the Winter Short Course of Ten Weeks which is arranged for farmers who cannot spare the time and money to take a longer course, but who want to gain some valuable and practical suggestions as regards better farming.

For further information, address T. R. BRYANT, Supt. Extension Division, Experiment Station, Lexington, Ky.

CENTENNIAL STATE SENDS MEMORIAL TO WASHINGTON

Masons have just finished setting in the Washington monument Colorado's contribution to the shaft in memory of the first President. It is a beautiful specimen of the Colorado Yule marble, the same material which has been selected for the two million dollar Lincoln memorial to be placed on the banks of the Potomac just west of the monument.

This marble comes from within the Sopris national forest, which furnishes a large part of the timber used in the quarrying operations. The maintenance of timber supplies for this and for other quarries and mines is according to forestry officials, an important part of their work. It will always be their aim, they say, to maintain a supply of timber for this local demand of one of Colorado's great resources, of which Governor Ammons, who came to Washington to arrange for the placing of the stone, is very proud.

The stone itself will present a rectangular face 2 by 4 feet, upon which the name and seal of the State are inscribed, together with the year in which the State was admitted. It is on the 290-foot landing inside the monument in the middle of the east wall and is thus one of the highest of the many tributes which line the lower part of the historic obelisk. It is now draped from the gaze of the public awaiting a date to be set by Senator Shafroth for simple unveiling ceremonies.

COREIN'S BARBER SHOP

Our barber shop is now one of the coziest in the central part of the State. Neat, clean and sanitary. Besides the modern equipment already installed we have added new glass case antiseptic tool sterilizers, in which our razors, scissors, combs and brushes and all working tools are kept. We use individual cups and soap for each shave. A modern hot towel sterilizer is used also by our barbers. A cozy bath room, nice and warm, is always ready for use. New linoleum has just been placed on the floor and handsome mirrors decorate all four walls. Besides myself and Dave Miller, who have been barbers all our lives, we have in our employ Louis Livas and Chas. Hughes, two first-class tonsorial artists, which enables you to get first-class service in a hurry—no waits. Besides our first-class service we take great pride in the sanitary manner in which we wait on our trade. A trial shave, hair cut or massage at our shop will make a permanent customer for our shop. You are invited to call on us. Respectfully, RUSS. COREIN.

Bank Notes That Talk.

Bank notes that speak have been patented by an English inventor, to battle forgers. The edge of the note is perforated so that, when placed in a phonograph, the rough edge generates sound waves that form words. A disputed note placed in the machine would say, for instance, "I am a genuine five-pound note."

A PET CAT

Saves From Destruction Big Theater in Ithaca, New York.

Pinky, the Lyceum Theater pet cat, saved that large playhouse from destruction at Ithaca, N. Y., a few days ago, and also the life of George Williamson, who was sleeping in one of the dressing rooms.

Williamson was sleeping when the cat, which is admired by theatergoers, began pawing his face. The persistence of the cat finally caused Williamson to rouse himself. Williamson, who was stealing a sleep in the theater after being stranded here and befriended by stage employees, saw a small fire near the dressing room. It gained headway so that he could not put it out with the fire extinguisher and he called out the fire department. The scenery was damaged to the extent of about $3,000.

LONGEST WAY AROUND

Is Sometimes Most Economical Way Home in Road Building.

The average life of horses and automobiles may be increased and the cost of hauling reduced, according to the Office of Roads, of the Government Department of Agriculture, by relocating many old roads and the more scientific laying out of new ones. The natural tendency in road building is to build a straight road, whether it goes over steep grades or hills, or not, and pulling over these grades naturally adds to the wear and tear on horses and vehicles.

The doctrine of the Office of Roads is that the longest way around may be the shortest and most economical way home, and that frequently by building a highway around a hill or grade, but little appreciable distance is added and this is more than offset by the reduced strain of hauling.

The chief drawback from the farmer's point of view is that the laying out of roads on this principle of avoiding grades necessitates, in some cases, running the road through good farm land or orchards or pastures, instead of going around the farm line and building the road through old wornout fields and over rocky knolls. This, of course, may raise a question in the mind of the individual land owner as to whether the cutting up of his property by a road yields him individual advantages and so benefits his community as to offset the use of such land for a road, or to overcome the inconvenience of having his land divided. In this connection the Office of Roads points out that the running of a road and the resulting traffic through a good farm, where there are good sheep, cattle, horses, grain, fruit, or vegetables, has a certain advertising value and in many instances makes the land more valuable. In other cases, the importance of such a level road to community is so great that it might well repay those using the road to give the farmer the equivalent in land equally good in place of what he has sacrificed to the common welfare.

At any rate the Office of Roads is now taking special pains to make clear the economic advantage of avoiding steep grades in their roads, even at some sacrifice of better land. Investigation shows that the laying of such roads over hills has resulted more from attention to the preservation of farm lines than from scientific attention to the problem of road building.

According to the testimony of farmers consulted, where a horse might be able to pull 4,000 pounds on a level road, it would have difficulty in pulling 3,000 pounds up a steep hill. The size of the load, therefore, tends to be measured by the grade of the largest hill on the road to market. In a number of cases of actual experiment shows that the relocating of roads around hills has been accomplished, either with no addition in length of the road in some instances, and with the adding of only a few feet to the highway in others. The Office knows of no case of a properly relocated road which has cut out grades has led to any question as to its material reduction of hauling costs.

Importation of Cigars.

The cigar early became an article of commerce. Homemade cigars were smoked by Europeans in the North American colonies at the same time that pipe smoking became common. Cigars were brought into the American colonies and into the United States from the West Indies much earlier than the records show. They came in under the head of merchandise.

LET YOUR CHILDREN PLAY ALL THEY WANT TO

"In the December" Woman's Home Companion Dr. Roger H. Dennett, a New York physician who is an expert in the care and treatment of children, writes an article entitled "How to Make Babies Better." Following is an extract in which Dr. Dennett gives his ideas of exercise for children:

"It seems to be the idea of some mothers to suppress their children in their play, with the idea that it is for their good. I cannot understand why this suppression is so popular, because I believe that throughout childhood there are few exceptions to the rule that a child should be allowed to be as active as he wishes. Not long ago I asked a mother whose child did not seem to be in the best of health if she was very active in her play. The mother replied that the child was very lively, indeed, but that she was not allowed to run when she was out of doors for fear of getting overheated, there was so much danger of her catching cold afterward. This is not at all unusual, for I meet this suppression almost every day. Such mothers should learn that their children are far more apt to catch cold when they do not get the proper amount of exercise than when they are allowed to run and play all they like. Let your children be as lively as they wish and play to their heart's content. If they are not naturally active encourage them in a fondness for games. Most of us have caught the spirit of the fresh air treatment, and it would be well if we could learn that exercise is just as important."

TEACHER RESIGNS

To Become a Janitor, Because the Salary is Larger.

Because his job as teacher in the East High School, in Cleveland, O., where he was in charge of the manual training school, paid him only $1,800 a year, and the job as first janitor pays $2,400, Charles J. Fosket resigned his school position to become chief custodian of the First National Bank Building.

Fosket has been a teacher in the Cleveland schools for twelve years. In his letter of resignation to the Board he declared one reason he was leaving was the unsanitary condition of his classroom, which he said endangered his health.

Principal Lothman, of the East High School, said that many valuable teachers are quitting because of the higher salaries obtainable elsewhere, in other lines. Fosket was graduated from Brown University in 1896, and taught four years at Lawrence Scientific School of Harvard University.

DEATHS

SAGASER.

—Mr. Noah Low Sagaser, aged 82 years, a former resident of Bourbon county, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Howard Lancaster, in Lexington, Tuesday afternoon, at 1:30 o'clock. Mr. Sagaser formerly resided at Centerville, this county. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Anna Sagaser, one daughter, Mrs. Howard Lancaster, and two brothers, Charles and Marion Sagaser, of this county.

The body was brought to this city yesterday at noon and the remains were interred in the Catholic cemetery.

MILLER.

—Mrs. Nancy F. Miller, aged 71 years, the venerable mother of Mrs. L. A. Soper, of Little Rock, died last Saturday at Smithfield, Ky., her former home, and was buried there by Monday by the side of her husband, James B. Miller.

Mrs. Miller made her home with Mrs. Soper, and died after a brief illness while on a visit to a niece in Smithfield. She was a useful woman, and a devout member of the Methodist church.

FORRESTER.

—The Misses Shropshire, of this city, received a telegram which announced the death of their uncle, Col. George Forrester, in Chicago, on Nov. 13. Col. Forrester was a former Kentuckian, and was aged 71 years on the day of his death.

He was a former member of Gen. John H. Morgan's command, and a prominent figure in the Confederate Association of Chicago.

Col. Forrester was publishing a paper at Maysville, Ky., when the war broke out and because of an article advocating secession was arrested by the Federal Government and confined at Fort Lafayette, New York, in 1861. Upon being released from prison he at once joined Morgan's cavalry, in which he rose to the command of Captain. He was severely wounded in the fight at Woodburn Station, Ky., but upon his recovery returned to his command and served under Gen. Morgan until the close of the war, when he was brevetted Colonel. He then engaged in planting in Alabama, until 1868, when he removed to Chicago, where for thirty years he was a traveling salesman.

Mr. Forrester was always a Democrat in politics except during the first McKinley campaign, when he organized the Democratic Traveling Men's McKinley Club, of Chicago.

Columbia Post, 766, and Meade Post 444, G. A. R., and Camp 8, Confederate Veterans, attended the funeral in a body.

Mr. Forrester was married in 1878 to Louise M. Crossett, of Chicago, who died two years ago. He is survived by Robert H. Forrester, Chicago; Walter Forrester, Louisville, and Richard Forrester, San Francisco, brothers, and by Mrs. Agnes Selander, Chicago, sister.

Mr. Forrester was a brother of the late Mrs. Fannie Forrester Shropshire, of Paris, and an uncle of Misses Pink and Fannie Shropshire, and Messrs. R. L. and Wm. Shropshire, all of Paris.

THEATRICAL.

The Alamo Theatre.

Friday—"While the Starlight Travels," an Essanay love story for the romantic, in two reels, beginning with the early ages of the moundbuilders and linked to a story of the Civil War by the reincarnation of the spirit. Two beautiful dramas linked by one repeating love story. A most remarkable and novel picture based on the popular scientific theory of the reincarnation of the spirit. Interesting to everyone and founded on the true conditions of two epochs of American history. A story and a theory you will remember always. The cast of characters includes Dorris Mitchell, Richard C. Travers, Chas. Hitchcock and Thomas Cummerford.

"Starved Out," an Edison comedy, a delightful house boat story. The chaperon of a party of girls aboard a house boat shows marked disapproval of the boys when they come out to call, until the rowboat is accidentally (?) lost and the boys rescue the girls from starvation.

Albert Ertz, character singer. Saturday—"Daddy's Soldier Boy," a Vitagraph drama. He proves himself a little hero and dies as a soldier should, happy in his ideal and unconscious of his father's crime. Featuring Mr. Charles Bennett.

"The Crook and the Girl," a Biograph drama. A crook experiences a change of heart. In the guise of a gardener, he came to steal the paper telling the whereabouts of the second will that was so that the nephew might enjoy the inheritance alone; then the girl learned his true mission, but in the end he restored her confidence and beat her enemies at their own game. The cast includes Claire McDowell, Lionel Barrymore and Harry Carey.

Hear! Mr. Albert Ertz is singing. (adv)

This boy Ertz now singing at the Alamo Theatre needs but little advertising in Paris, as those who have heard him sing have told their friends and he is attracting large crowds at the Alamo. Mr. Ertz deserves all the praise he receives as he without a question is the greatest character singer that ever faced an audience in Paris and also the highest salaried one. This gifted vocal genius only stays at the Alamo for a limited engagement and if you have not heard him sing, don't stay away, and if you have heard him of course you know we are not jesting in our praise of him.

ED. MCKERNAN IN SERIOUS CONDITION AT CINCINNATI

Ed. McKernan, former manager of the Paris Baseball Club, and who for the past two seasons has been at the head of the Battle Creek club of the Southern Michigan League, is ill and in a serious condition at his home in Cincinnati. McKernan was taken ill shortly before the close of the Southern Michigan League season, and was for a time unable to stand the trip to his home in Cincinnati. A few weeks ago, however, his condition was somewhat improved, but it is hardly likely he will be sufficiently recovered to play ball next season.

Hogan Yancey, of the Lexington team, was in Cincinnati a few days ago to confer with McKernan in regard to assuming the management of the Lexington team, believing that he is the only man in minor league baseball who could pilot the Colts to victory in the Ohio State League during the coming season.

The fact that McKernan won two pennants for Paris while in the Blue Grass League, and in the second season in the Michigan League won for Battle Creek, is sufficient guarantee that he would put the Colts in the running if his services could be secured. McKernan's illness was the result of being struck over the kidneys by a ball during last season, which practically ruined his health. His many friends and admirers here will regret to learn of his serious condition.

BOURBON ASSOCIATION TO MEET IN LITTLE ROCK TODAY

A meeting of the Bourbon County Teachers' Association will be held today at the graded school building at Little Rock. Among the speakers will be Prof. McHenry Rhoads, of the State University; Dr. A. S. MacKenzie, of the same institution, and Prof. Thomas A. Hendricks, superintendent of the Paris public schools.

The exercises will open at 8:30 a. m., with demonstration work, which will continue until 10 o'clock, at which hour chapel exercises will be held. Prof. Rhoads will address the members of the association at 11 o'clock, followed by Dr. MacKenzie. Professor Hendricks will speak in the afternoon.

Miss Mabel Robbins, County Superintendent, and nearly all the county teachers will be in attendance, and the School Improvement League will be represented.

RELIGIOUS.

—The coming of Rev. Drs. Reed and Lilly from Nashville, Tenn., to our city, and who conduct a great conference here during the coming Sabbath and Monday, the 23rd and 24th, of this month, will be an epoch making event in the history of Christianity in Paris, if the Christian people are awake to their interests, and fully avail themselves of the privileges that will then be offered them. Sunday night at the Christian Church they will likely have a large hearing for the reason that they will then have spoken twice already that day many will know what good things are in store for them. Besides, it is the usual time for people to go to church. But what about Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Presbyterian Church? Two of their greatest addresses are to be delivered at that time and place "Christ Transforming the Nations," by Dr. Reid, and "Missions and Spiritual Life," by Dr. Lilly. There will likely be an offering at these meetings, or some of them, to take care of the expense incurred in these brethren coming, but these conferences are wholly for the purpose of creating interest in the great and onward work of the kingdom, and of imparting inspiration in the doing of the same, and no collection for missions will be taken at any one of them. Inspirational and educational is the idea.

—Mrs. William Allen Clarke, who has been the very attractive guest of Mrs. J. M. Hall, will return to Cincinnati Monday. Mr. Clarke will come Saturday to return with Mrs. Clarke.

—Mrs. J. M. Hall entertained Wednesday afternoon at her handsome home on Duncan Avenue, with a beautiful reception. The party was lovely in every detail, and was to especially compliment two lovely brides who have just been welcomed into the family—Mrs. William Kenney Ferguson, who before her marriage was the beautiful Miss Sue Ford Offutt, of Georgetown, and Mrs. William Allen Clarke, who is the very attractive and popular niece of the hostess, and as Miss Martha Waller was one of the most popular of the county's attractive girls.

Mrs. Hall was very handsome in a white charmeuse gown with tulle of silver lace with touches of pink. She very graciously welcomed her friends at the head of the receiving line, and standing next was Mrs. William K. Ferguson, and who was so strikingly like the hostess, was gorgeously attired in her wedding gown of white satin, trimmed with Duchess lace and pearls.

Mrs. Clarke was lovely in an exquisite gown of white charmeuse with draped overdress of gold lace.

Mrs. Reuben Ford Offutt was very handsome in a white satin gown with an overdress of black lace.

The hostess, who is very popular, had a number of friends to assist in entertaining the guests, who numbered more than two hundred. Among those who assisted were Mrs. Ford Brent, Mrs. John S. Roberts, Mrs. Miller Ward, Mrs. Arthur Hancock, Mrs. Swift Champ, Mrs. Mary Ireland Davis, Mrs. James H. Thompson, Mrs. G. R. Bell, Mrs. W. C. Ferguson, Mrs. H. C. Howard and Miss Bessie Holliday.

The beautiful home was made more attractive for the party with its added beauty of decorations, which were dozens of handsome white chrysanthemums in vases, which decorated the drawing room, and the dining room had its decorations pink Killarney roses in baskets of silver. A huge silver basket of Killarney roses adorned the center of the table and around this were smaller silver baskets of the same lovely rose. The silver platters contained delicious confections, which were served with a salad course. In the library, where punch was served at a beautifully appointed table, the flowers used were American Beauty roses.

At this table six charming young friends of the hostess presided, all of whom were lovely in their dainty gowns of silver lace and chiffon. They were Misses Mary Clay, Sallie Lockhart, Elizabeth Steele, Martha Ferguson and Caroline Roseberry. Yellow chrysanthemums were used very effectively in the hall and made a lovely background as the guests entered. Just back of the hall, behind a bank of potted plants, an orchestra played sweet music during the afternoon.

Among the out of town guests were Mrs. Henry Jones and Mrs. David P. Gay, of Winchester; Mrs. W. T. Lafferty, Miss Helen Lafferty, Miss Mary Leonard Cassell, Miss Anna Clay McDowell, Lexington; Mrs. Churchill Blackburn, Mrs. Edward Smith, Mrs. John S. Gaines, Georgetown; Mrs. Edward Simms, Houston, Texas.

—Miss Emma Haas, of St. Joseph, Mo., is visiting the family of Mr. A. J. Winters, on High street.

LOOSE LEAF SALES TO OPEN HERE SATURDAY.

With every indication pointing to a most successful market the warehouse of the Bourbon Tobacco Warehouse Company will be thrown open to the public tomorrow morning and the loose leaf sales will begin. The sales will start promptly at ten o'clock. A large amount of tobacco was received and unloaded at the warehouse yesterday, and a large number of crops consigned to the local market will be received today. It is expected that a full floor will be ready for the buyers when the sale opens tomorrow morning.

An increase in the facilities of the local warehouse will make it the most convenient place of market in the State and the officials are free to predict the possibility of a record breaking season. Messrs. John T. Collins and Edward Burke, who have the affairs of the warehouse in charge have been very busily engaged in the past several days preparing for the opening. It is now the plan to have a sale every other day until the tobacco begins to arrive in quantities to justify a sale every day.

The main floor of the building has a capacity of 200,000 pounds, while the capacity of the addition which was recently completed is 100,000. When the officials succeed in getting the sales well under way it is their intention to have sales daily, one on the main floor and the next day in the addition. Under the present conditions seventy-five wagon loads of tobacco can be handled under roof at one time and with the improved facilities of unloading the handicap of long and vexatious delays is practically eliminated.

One of the most capable tobacco auctioneers in the country has been secured for the season, Mr. O. S. Clay, of Waldon, Ind., being engaged by the local company, and has already taken up his residence in Paris, residing with his family on Cypress street.

Practically all the leading tobacco manufacturers of the country will have representatives on the local breaks, and all of them have secured pricing space in the basement of the warehouse. Mr. S. K. Nichols, of Paris, will represent the Liggett & Myers Tobacco Co.; Mr. J. C. Ellis, Paris, the American Tobacco Co.; Mr. Williams representing the J. P. Taylor and P. Lorrillard Co.; and Mr. George Gray the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. Mr. Gray, who is formerly of this county, has for some time been at Port Royal, Va., in the employ of the company he will represent here.

Aside from the above there will be a number of independent buyers and speculators, which insures the growers of Bourbon and adjoining counties good prices for their tobacco.

Compared with the markets of other cities and especially of Lexington, the capacity of the local warehouse considered, more tobacco was handled in Paris than in that city. As to the prices obtained the figures show those the local market afforded were better than any other market in Central Kentucky. This fact alone should be a great inducement to the growers of Bourbon county to bring their tobacco to the Paris market, where they will receive the top price.

THE MUSIC FESTIVAL.

The sale of seats for the great concert opened up briskly Wednesday and continued all day yesterday at Morehead's piano store, the subscribers showing unusual interest in the event.

Today the sale to the general public commences at 9 o'clock at the same place. With two such artists as Mr. Whitney and Miss Valentine and the Festival Orchestra, beautiful music is assured the audience.

How many hospital patients, suffering the frightful itch, the raw scorching pain of skin disease, have been soothed to sleep by a soothing fluid washed in by the nurse's hands?

That fluid is the famous D. D. D. Prescription for eczema.

THE SUPERVISING NURSE of one of our prominent Catholic institutions (name of nurse and institute on application), writes regarding a patient: "The disease had eaten her eyebrows away. Her nose and lips had become disfigured. Since the use of D. D. D. her eyebrows are growing, her nose and face have assumed their natural expression."

How many eczema sufferers are paying their doctors for regular treatment and are being treated with this same soothing, healing fluid?

writes "D. D. D. is superior to anything I have ever found. Soft and soothing, yet a powerful agent."

To do the work, D. D. D. Prescription must be applied according to directions given in the pamphlet around every bottle. Follow these directions—and see!

And it certainly takes away the itch at once—the moment the fluid is applied. The skin is soothed—calmed—so thoroughly refreshed—delightfully cooled.

All druggists of standing have the famous specific as well as the efficient D. D. D. Skin Soap.

But we are so confident of the merits of this prescription that we will refund the purchase price of the first full size bottle if it fails to reach your case. You alone are to judge.

GAME COMMISSION ASKS AID OF LICENSED HUNTERS

"We want to enlist the active cooperation of every man in Kentucky who has a hunter's license in protecting the game from the cheater," is the statement of J. Quincy Ward, Executive Agent of the Game and Fish Commission. "We want them to realize that it is they, not the State, who are being cheated by the 'game hog,' the commercial hunter and the fellow who hunts out of season and without a license."

"We are having plans drawn for breeding and exhibition pens at the State Fair grounds, where we shall breed game birds and big game. They will be on exhibition at the next State Fair. Their progeny will be used in restocking the State. We have made arrangements to purchase twenty deer from Grand Island, Mich., and some elk, which will be placed in a breeding preserve on Pine Mountain, Bell county. We have set aside 10 cent. of the revenues for purchasing quail, which will be 'planted' in time for the hunting season next year. We are going to restock the State with wild turkey and other game birds."

"We are perfecting an organization and our wardens are doing effective work, but the State is large, and unless sportsmen and farmers report infractions of the hunting law, either to the warden or the State department, some violators are bound to escape, though they do it at their peril."

"What we wish to impress on the sportsmen who take out licenses and obey the law is that every violator of the law is cheating them. Those who set about to deplete the game supply, unwarrantedly, either for gain or through greed or who hunt out of season and thus get into the field before our law-abiding real sportsman goes out, is to whatever extent he succeeds robbing the sportsman of the benefits for which he spends his money when he buys a license."

Bragi.

In the Scandinavian mythology Bragi was the god of poetry. He was a warlike personage, who scorned all verse, but that which rang with the praises of gods and warriors. Iduna, Bragi's wife, kept certain apples in a casket, which the gods, when they felt age approaching, had only to taste in order to regain their youth. On the approach of the great Turlight at the end of time, this fruit was to lose its power.

FALL SOWN GRAIN IS IN FINE SHAPE

The November crop report, the last of the year, was issued Friday by Commissioner Newman. He says:

"The long drouth in Kentucky has been broken. There has been sufficient rainfall to start the fall grown grains off in splendid condition, and stock water in most places is now plentiful."

"Fall grass is starting to grow but it is too late in the season for any great amount of pasture to be secured. The cold weather and short supply of grass have caused the farmers to begin feeding stock from a month to six weeks earlier than usual. Quite a good deal of fall plowing has been done."

"The final yield of corn in Kentucky for 1913, as reported, is 20.5 bushels per acre. The government estimate for 1912 was 30.4 bushels."

"The final yield of Burley tobacco is reported as 655 pounds per acre. As there was an acreage of approximately 175,000, this would indicate that the Burley crop of Kentucky would be 115,000,000 pounds."

"The final yield of dark tobacco is 503 pounds per acre, and with an acreage of approximately 150,000, makes the total yield of dark tobacco about 75,000,000."

"The drouth has cut corn about one-third, Burley tobacco about one-third and dark tobacco about one-half."

"The per cent. of wheat sown is given as 91.5, and the condition of this wheat as 91.8. This indicates rather a large crop of wheat for next year."

Consumption Takes 350 People Every Day in the United States and the surprising truth is that most cases are preventable with timely, intelligent treatment.

These appalling facts should warn us that after sickness, colds, overwork or any other drains upon strength, Scott's Emulsion should be promptly and regularly used because tubercular germs thrive only in a weakened system.

The tested and proven value of Scott's Emulsion is recognized by the greatest specialists because its medical nourishment assimilates quickly to build healthy tissue; aids in the development of active, life-sustaining blood corpuscles; strengthens the lungs and builds physical force without reaction. Scott's Emulsion is used in tuberculosis camps because of its rare body-building, blood-making properties and because it contains no alcohol or habit-forming drug. Be sure to insist on Scott's.

DECLARE WAR ON COLDS

A crusade of education which aims that common colds may become uncommon within the next generation, has been begun by New York physicians. Here is a list of "don'ts" that the doctors say will prevent the annual visitation of the cold:

"Don't sit in a draughty car."

"Don't sleep in hot rooms."

"Don't avoid the fresh air."

"Don't stuff yourself at meal time."

Overeating reduces your resistance."

Roman laws, permeated with stoic doctrines, looked indulgently upon those who took their own life and frowned only when this means was employed to evade punishment for some capital offense. "People that see me now and saw me two months ago seem astonished. I tell them Peruna did it. I will say it is the only remedy for spring and all other ailments."

No argument is needed for Peruna. Just get a bottle and try it. If you have catarrh of the stomach you have a serious trouble. If you want to find a remedy it would be very easy to make the experiment. Before you have taken Peruna a week you will likely find yourself better, then you will need no testimonials on the part of other people, or arguments to convince you. Until you try Peruna, however, all the testimonials in the world and arguments, however logical, will not move you. Just one trial of Peruna will convince you.

Persons who object to liquid medicines can now obtain Peruna Tablets.

HIS FACE WAS FAMILIAR

Old "Newsboy" Halls Secretary of State on Street and Gets Hearty Greeting.

One of the capital's characters is an old man "newsboy." His place of business is on Fifteenth street, opposite the treasury building. He has the fire of youth in him yet and a keen sense of humor.

Any time of the day you pass him, his old, quavering voice can be heard in a monotone, calling the news of the day after his own method. He it a sizzling day, when eggs may be fried on Washington's asphalted streets, his cry will be something like this: "Evening paper; all about the blizzard—Huerta given the frost!"

The old man's name is Kennedy. Years ago he and his brother were Washington's leading coal and wood merchants. Had they stuck to their business instead of pushing a large claim against the government, it is said, they would now have big automobile trucks delivering coal about the city at fancy prices.

While Kennedy was waiting the other day for a late edition of the paper to come along so that he might ply his trade, William Jennings Bryan, the secretary of state, came in sight. Mr. Bryan, as a true Democrat, was walking instead of using one of the various vehicles supplied to the cabinet officer holding down the portfolio of state.

"Howdy, Mr. Bryan," Kennedy said. Mr. Bryan glanced at the old man and then stopped. His face shown with a kindly smile.

Advancing to Kennedy with outstretched hand, he said: "Your face is familiar; when and where did we meet?"

"Don't you remember the Kennedy brothers, Mr. Bryan?" the elderly "newsboy" said. "My brother and I had a claim in congress for wood used in the Civil war. Senator Teller of Colorado introduced me to you when you were in the house, and—"

"Yes, yes," exclaimed Secretary Bryan. "Indeed, I remember you."

Mr. Bryan refrained from asking about Kennedy's affair—he could see his unsold papers on his arm—and again heartily shaking the old man's hand, insisted that he call and see him.

Kennedy refused to say whether he will, but the incident brightened considerably his outlook on life.

GRAFTER PLIES HIS GAME

Commandant of Cutter Service Is the Latest to Assist the "Poor Hucker."

A stranger who makes at least one call on each prominent revenue cutter officer stationed in Washington paid a visit the other day to Captain Berthoff, commandant of the service. The man, with apparent diffidence, threw a bag of peaches on the captain's desk and exclaimed:

"One good turn, captain, deserves another. You gave me a quarter when I was hard up and I want you to know I haven't forgotten it."

"Why, I don't remember the incident at all, but that's all right," replied the officer.

"Everything's all right, captain," said the stranger, "except that I need just $2 to complete a hucker outfit." Captain Berthoff is a charitable man, and he paid just $2 for that 10 cents worth of peaches. When he repeated the story to Captain Charles A. McAllister, engineer in chief of the service, the latter laughed coldly. "Stung," he chortled. "That fellow has told the same story to all the rest of us during the last two years with exactly the same results."

MYSTERIOUS BUST IS FOUND

At First Thought, to Be One of Columbus, But It Had Whiskers.

The capitol continues its output of art mysteries. This time it is reported that a marble bust of an unknown man has been found among rubbish in the cellar. At first glance it was thought to be a bust of Columbus, but it was found to have side whiskers, ornaments believed not to have been used by Columbus or by others in his time. Then it was later settled on that it was the bust of some early explorer. This is as far as the mystery solvers had got when the writer passed that way.

Another art mystery of the capitol stands in the east corridor of the senate gallery. Around it are busts of Lincoln, Charles Sumner, Garibaldi, Pulaski, Kosciuszko and two Indians. It is a bust of Zachary Taylor. The mystery about this bust is the sculptor. Earnest efforts, covering a long period, have been made to determine the author of this marble. It was bought by the government from some of Taylor's descendants, but they did not know the history of the bust.

Tango in Washington. The park police of the capital have just solved a weighty problem. When the hands played in Washington's many parks in the evenings young men and girls began to dance the tango and similar contortions on the greenward. It was hard work, but the youngsters stuck bravely to it. The policemen reported the matter to headquarters. Knitted brows resulted in an edict that girls could dance together as much as they liked. Ditto to the young men. But should couples of opposite sex start, it they must be stopped. The police have not been bothered since.

TOO MANY HEIRLOOMS

By HENRY SCHREYER.

"No," said the girl at the museum, "let's not go in there. I just hate heirlooms!" she frowned with disfavor on the exhibition and turned away.

"I've been brought up among heirlooms since I can remember, and I loathe and despise them!" she said, shuddering.

"When I was a baby they began. My best dress all through my babyhood was the dress my mother and grandmother had been baptized in. Of course, if they'd been noble blooded, or something, so the dress could have been delicate lace, or something. I could have stood it, but I know my infant flesh protested against wearing for best a yellow old unattractive piece of heavy muslin that looked like a bath robe!"

"But it was an heirloom, and in every picture I have of my babyhood I'm inclosed in that thing! I'm ashamed to show my baby pictures for people will think I'm three times my natural age, from the style of my dress!"

"Then I had a lot of great aunts, with garrets, and when they saw that picture of the dress of ancient vintage nothing would do but they should turn over their rubbish and send me boxes of things almost perishing with age! Of course, mother had to fix them up, and she usually just did as little as possible, so I could wear them a little while and then throw them away. She felt that as much as that was needed, to keep in with the relatives. But there I went around, in my girlhood, with hoopskirts minus the hoops, and with moth-eaten sleeves, skin tight, when all the girls were wearing big puffs. And to appease my mother always told me that I should be proud to have heirlooms!"

"I tell you, if you want to look at heirlooms, look at me! Here I stand, a perfect museum! Look at this skirt."

"I Just Hate Heirlooms."

It was handed down from Mrs. Noah—or very nearly! Aunt Jane wrote that she had a good tailored skirt—she didn't mention that the tailor died in his dotage long since—and wouldn't I like it? It was hardly used a bit, she said, and she did hope that I'd appreciate it. She had kept it for years, expecting to make some use of it, but it was always too good to cut up.

"So I accepted it as gracefully as I could, for Aunt Jane bears grudges forever if she gets them. Now she writes every week to ask how it's wearing—and she's coming down this summer, so I've got to give it a little use or she'll suspect something. She's dreadfully observing!"

"And see this trimming on my collar! Well, my Great Uncle John found that in Venice once upon a time, I suspect in some former incarnation! The gold is all tarnished, and the colors are so blended with age that it looks like a piece of leather. But you ask grandmother about it! She can see it gleaming in its pristine splendor, and she beams on me whenever I come near in this suit! As she lives with us, I have to wear it on every occasion. I can leave it at home when I go to the store, on the plea of preserving it, but if I'm dressed up grandmother is right there to see that this collar is in its proper place."

"Why, they've grown so used to seeing me in heirlooms that my younger aunts send on their old shoes! And mother, being economical and desiring to be grateful for all favors, writes back to say how delighted I am—and then we get more! And each aunt brags to the others how generous she is, and their generosity grows!"

"Our house is so full of heirlooms—all moth-eaten and rickety—that we haven't room for a decent chair, and our pictures are all enlarged photographs! But they're heirlooms—ask the people who gave them to us and see if they're not!"

"Now mother's growing stout, so she's bestowing all her outgrown things on me!"

"Actually, I think when I take things off I'll just burn them up to save some one else the agony of possession!"

"Don't show me any heirlooms. I'd rather go in here and see the way gold and silver is made into money, to buy new things to wear!"—Chicago Daily News.

Plenty of Books.

"Compulsory education is a great thing," exclaimed the little man.

"Yes," replied the big man, "but I notice that people continue to call up Avon 184 and ask for Mr. Wolf and Mr. Campbell."

THICK, GLOSSY HAIR FREE FROM DANDRUFF

Girls! Try It! Your Hair Gets Soft Fluffy and Luxuriant at Once.

If you care for heavy hair, that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life, has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine.

Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair; besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scourer robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots flail, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast.

If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too oily, get a 25c. bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter; apply a little as directed and ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment that you ever made.

We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised, that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must use Knowlton's Danderine. If eventually—why not now? (adv)

RAIN-MAKING FACILITIES

Warm air is like a sponge. It will suck up a lot of moisture and carry it without spilling any. But if warm air, well loaded with moisture, is suddenly cooled, the sponge is squeezed and the moisture falls out as rain.

Twenty years ago some hopeful gentlemen went to the arid regions of Texas and exploded a lot of dynamite on the theory that the concussion would mix the strata of warm air near the earth with the cooler strata above, and so cause the necessary precipitation of moisture. There happened to be light showers about the time of the experiments, which encouraged the experimenters, but did not convince anybody else.

The fact is that Nature's rain-making machine is too gigantic to be affected by the puny efforts of humans—at least by any efforts so far discovered.

Nature pumps the moisture-laden air up into the cold regions of the upper atmosphere with a wheel a thousand miles in diameter. When this tremendous wheel of air is revolving normally it lifts millions of tons of water vapor to an elevation where it can no longer be carried in solution and so falls as rain.

When the wheel is off adjustment it is as futile to bombard the sky with dynamite as it would be to fire popgun corks at the side of the latest dreadnought.

Daily Reminder.

Often "cold feet" is the better judgment peculiarly manifesting itself.

BEST LAXATIVE FOR BOWELS—"CASCARETS"

When Constipated, Headachy, Bilious, Breath Bad, Stomach Sour

Get a ten-cent box.

Are you keeping your bowels, liver and stomach clean, pure and fresh with Cascarets, or merely forcing a passageway every few days with salts, cathartic pills, castor oil or purgative waters?

Stop having a bowel wash day. Let Cascarets thoroughly cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour and fermenting food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver, and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will make you feel great by morning. They work while you sleep—never gripe, sicken or cause any inconvenience, and cost only ten cents a box from your druggist. Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and never have headache, biliousness, coated tongue, indigestion, sour stomach, or constipated bowels. Cascarets belong to everyone. Children just learn to take them.

SKULL OF THE

Said to Be That of Some Prehistoric Human Being.

Dr. J. Leon Williams, recently elected Fellow of the Royal Anthropological Institute, arrived in New York, recently, with a number of skulls and bones, among them being the reconstructed skull and teeth of a prehistoric human being, by which Dr. Williams hopes to prove man's residence upon the earth more than half a million years ago.

Less than a year ago the skull from which Dr. Williams made his plaster copy was accidentally discovered by Dr. Smith-Woodward, of the South Kensington Museum, and Charles Dawson, a geologist, on the gravel plateau near Piltown Common, Kent. The upper part of the skull showed a well-developed human forehead. Two small teeth were found in the lower jaw and their form convinced Dr. Smith-Woodward that the skull was that of an anthropoid ape.

"When the relic was brought to my attention," said Dr. Williams, "I had photographs made of both the restored skull and the original bones. I saw that Dr. Smith-Woodward had filled in the cavities of the jaw with the teeth of a gorilla. This, I felt, was wrong, and in my model substituted the teeth of a human."

"I finally proved to the satisfaction of the majority of the members of the Royal College of Surgeons that the relic dated back to before the Pleistocene era, which is agreed upon by nearly all scientists to have been at least 500,000 years ago. Therefore this man lived over half a million years back. The evidence gives strong confirmation to the mutation theory of Darwins, and certainly modifies the Darwinian conception of natural selection."

CALIFORNIA GOLD DEPOSITS

Mining in Weaverville Quadrangle a Source of Great Wealth.

Few mining regions in California have attracted so much general attention and held it for so long a time as the Klamath Mountains of Siskiyou and Trinity counties, in the northwestern part of the State. The placers along Trinity and Klamath rivers were developed early in the gold rush and have been worked with varying energy to the present time. The La Grange mine, which is one of the largest hydraulic placers in the world, is now in the height of its activity.

An account of an investigation of the auriferous gravels in the Weaverville quadrangle, which embraces portions of Shasta and Trinity counties, by J. S. Diller, is contained in Bulletin 540-A, recently issued by the United States Geological Survey.

The outlook for future placer mining in this region is encouraging. The success of the La Grange mine consists in the economical treatment on a large scale of relatively low grade gravel. The success of the dredging at Trinity Center and of the placers north of Lewiston gives confidence to those who are attempting larger developments at the mouth of Eastman Gulch and at the bend of Trinity river above Lewiston, and the region may well be regarded as worthy of investigation by capitalists interested in dredging and hydraulic mining.

The bulletin also contains an account of the gold lodes of the Weaverville quadrangle, by H. G. Ferguson. Gold was first discovered in the quadrangle in 1848; in the fall of that year $60,000 worth was taken from the bed of Clear Creek. It is impossible to make any close estimate of the amount of gold produced from the lode mines in the quadrangle, but it is believed that the total is in excess of $15,000,000.

In certain of the deposits of the region practically all the gold is contained in small scattered pockets near the surface. One of these pockets yielded as much as $45,000 in a distance of 44 feet; from another a single plate of gold weighing 100 ounces is said to have been obtained. The peculiar pocket deposits have given rise to a class of prospectors known as "pocket hunters." These men often discover many rich pockets by tracing the particles of gold in the soil to their sources. As soon as a pocket is gouged out and colors of gold are no longer shown, the place is abandoned.

A copy of the bulletin may be obtained free on application to the Director of the Geological Survey, at Washington, D. C.

To clothe itself in the architectural dress of a century ago is the task which Litchfield, Conn., has set out to accomplish this year, so that the colonial aspect which it wore unbroken for so many years may be restored and conserved in all its original uniformity. All the public and business buildings, including the county court house and jail, are to be reconstructed with colonial exteriors.

Raising the Aunt.

"Look here, auntie, we are going to raise your rent this month," the agent remarked briskly. "Deed, an Ah! glad to hear dat, sah," the old woman replied, ducking her head politely. "Mighty glad, fo' sho', 'case Ah des come in hyah terday ter tell you 'all dat Ah couldn't raise hit dis month."—Harper's Magazine.

GIVES PINT OF BLOOD

To Save Life of College Girl But Effort Failed.

Despite the heroic donation of a pint of his blood, made by Thomas Pinkerton, a Columbia student, to save the life of Miss Edith M. Thompson, a young woman, the young man died.

Pinkerton, during the regular college year, was one of the leading athletes, and was the only member of the football team who was elected to the varsity.

He was as very pretty and popular student. She was the daughter of J. J. Thompson, of Savannah, Ga., a lawyer.

A pint of blood was transfused into the veins of the girl, but she died before another operation could be performed.

"Although I do not know Miss Thompson, I would gladly have given another operation to save a life," said Pinkerton. He is about 24 years old and comes from New York.

STOCK AND FARM NOTES

T. S. Robinson, of Bethel, Bates county, delivered last week to R. N. Ratliff, in Carlisle, thirty head of yearling mules for which it is said he paid more than $160 a head. Mr. Ratliff is a leading stock dealer of Winchester. The mules were shipped to parties in Tennessee.

At the Mt. Sterling Court Monday day, Thornton Snelling sold thirty 950-pound steers to Sam Clay, of Bourbon, at $6.60, and Mike Wilson sold a bunch of 750-pound steers to William B. Woodford for $6.40 per hundred. Bert McClintock purchased six heavy mules at an average of $135, and Thomas McClintock bought twelve head of heavy mules in excellent condition at from $120 to $200 per head.

JOHN FOX, JR., KILLS BEAR IN THE WILDS OF COLORADO

"We've been letting our whiskers grow long, now it's back to civilization for us," said Robert Collier, owner and publisher of Collier's Weekly, as he alighted from his car at the Union Depot at Denver. Col. Mr. Collier and his party, including John Fox, Jr., author, and J. M. Waterbury, polo player, have arrived in Denver from Glenwood Springs.

"We have enjoyed a five weeks' hunting trip," said Mr. Collier, "in which Mr. Fox distinguished himself by killing a bear. Mr. Fox, having a few weeks' growth of 'alfalfa' on his chin, had no trouble in 'killing the bear'; in fact, the bear took him for one of his old playmates, and made for him playfully."

"I mistrusted the bear," Fox remarked, "and took the back trail for a minute."

"Probably the 'Trail of the Lonesome Pine'," said Collier, who, according to other members of the party, had been "kidding" the author about his books throughout the hunting expedition.

According to the Baxters, of Glenwood Springs, who guide the party, it was one of the largest bears ever killed in that section.

Tests have been made in Germany with a special projectile which is designed to repel dirigibles and which was designed not only to pierce a gas envelope, but also to set fire to the gas. This projectile, fired from a rifle, is provided with little wings that open in flight under the influence of a spring, compressed while the projectile is still in the rifle barrel, but expanded as soon as the muzzle is passed. An ordinary bullet leaves such a small hole in the envelope that the gas escapes through it but slowly. The wings on the improved bullet tears a hole of appreciable size in the fabric. What is more they retard the bullet sufficiently to cause a friction in the bullet. The experiments gave encouraging results.

CAUSE OF INSOMNIA

The most common cause of insomnia is disorders of the stomach and constipation. Chamberlain's Tablets correct these disorders and enable you to sleep. For sale by all dealers. (adv)

The ocean at Venice, Cal., is alive with porpoises and whales. Whales and porpoises do not affiliate and a school of porpoises can drive a whale frantic. The porpoises recently singled out a bull mammal and made life so unpleasant for him that in his efforts to escape them he ran upon a sandbar about a quarter of a mile from shore. For fully two hours the whale floundered around on the bar, churning the water into foam as he lashed it with his tail and flukes. Finally he was floated off by the incoming tide, which gave him an opportunity to join the other whales sporting nearby.

Find Right Thing to Do. There are many failures because there are many persons trying to do the wrong things. We have no right to repine at a limit until we are sure that we have touched it. In reality, there is always enough for each to do, to accomplish, a plot of land for each to till; the narrowest capacity has something, and that something is enough, satisfyingly and usefully, to fill a lifetime.

Good for the Teeth. Carbonate of soda is good to use occasionally as a tooth powder, as it prevents decay. A mixture of fine salt and weak vinegar water will cleanse yellow teeth, as will also a paste made of pulverized pumice stone and peroxide of hydrogen lightly rubbed on the teeth. To prevent decay between the teeth draw dental floss through them every day. This will save you suffering and reduce your dentist bills.

They Died Anyway. Writing in a medical journal, one of the most eminent physicians in America tells of keeping a record of 1,000 cases treated by him, in which the post mortem examinations revealed that in not more than fifty per cent of the cases had his diagnosis been correct! Still, judging by the other fifty per cent, what difference would it have made had all been diagnosed correctly?—Chicago News.

Simple English! "A certain quality of force and directness, owing to its simplicity, would seem to be unattainable through any other medium, and a realization of this is probably the incentive to the dialect story, so uniformly unsuccessful, because the writer is an imitator and not writing his native language."—A philologist heaping encomiums on simple English in the New York Sun.

Dried Plants Shown in Millions. Kew gardens, London, England, possesses one of the biggest collections of dried plants in the world—a collection which is constantly being added to by travelers and scientific institutions in all parts of the globe. To show how huge this collection really is, one bequest, that of Sir W. G. Hooker, contained no fewer than two million specimens of dried plants.

Father's Parting Words. "Father," announced the young man who was crammed full of undigested education, "I cannot accede to your wishes in this matter. I feel, as the poet did, that I am the captain of my soul." The father gazed silently at the egotistical young cad and then replied: "Very well, son. But you are headed for the broad line and the true captain of his soul wins that title on the firing line."

Petrel. The small sea fowl called petrel was so named because when flying the feet frequently brush the water, which suggested the walking of Peter on the water.
